

GIVE THANKS TO THE GOD BEYOND ALL GODS

Responsorial Song from Psalm 118 for Easter 2A
for Psdalmist (Cantor), Assembly & Descant with Keyboard, Flute & Guitar

TONY BARR

Give thanks! Give thanks for God is good, whose love has no end!

Give thanks to the God beyond all gods,
whose kindness and mercy are without end.
Let the People of Covenant sing,
'God's kindness and mercy are without end!'

I had fallen, hardpressed, struck down,
but then God came to rescue me,
my strength, when I came with courage.
Victorious songs from the tents of the just!

Worthless as a stone to the builders,
has become the cornerstone.
Great things we have wrought this day,
what marvels we have done for us!

Let us be glad and rejoice,
this day God has made for us!

Let us be glad and rejoice,
alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Taking my cue from the last line of this well-knownlectionary psalm, I have added a fourth verses as a doxology. Please note that I have presented the word Alleluia, and take care how you pronounce it. Against convention I have written it phonetically as it would be sung in its original guttural Hebrew rather than our Anglicized stress on la. Please respect the vowels to the 'l' consonants and sing it as lel. Since Hebrew has no vowels, only consonants followed by diacritical marks, I have played intentionally on the 'ls', to turn the word into a dance. As a word, Alleluia has much more meaning than the sounds of its construction; writing is simply a developed way of expressing concepts, and in more ancient languages such as Hebrew, there are fewer words to communicate an entire spectrum of meaning. We regard words expressing concepts, Hebrew is expressive of reality itself. Psalm 150, the final psalm of the fives books of the Psalms ends with the dramatic phrase, Let every breath in my body be a song of praise, "Halleluya!" I transferred this commitment into my added doxology, as befits any Sunday in Eastertide.
